VOL.10 NO.28 WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1969 15¢ per copy

After a long hot summer, the holidays are over and its time for back to school. These youngsters at Father Jan School could hardly wait to barge into their first class. Children began to gather at the school as early as 8:30 a.m.

St. Albert man wins Fellowship award

Mr. Krishan Kamra, P. Eng. of St. Albert, has been re-awarded the W. K. Kellogg Foundation Fellowship by the Centre for Higher Education at the University of Washington in Seattle, where he has been studying towards a Ph.D. in the Administration of Higher Education, since last January.

Mr. Kamra received his B.Sc. and M.Sc. in engineering from the University of Alberta in Edmonton, and is currently on educational leave from his position as Director of Instruction at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology.

Mrs. Kamra (Ardis) recently graduated from the U of A with a Master of Education, is now working towards her Doctor of Philosophy in Learning Resources, also at the University of Washington. She had previously obtained a B.A. from the University of Alberta, and Bachelor of Library Science from the University of Toronto.

The Kamras' have two children, David going into Grade seven and Kerri into Grade two in the Laurelhurst area in Seattle. They made their home at 39 Gilmore Crés. from January, 1963 and presently are leaving their house to Mr. Girish Kamra, a brother, and his family.

Prior to resuming their studies in Washington University, the Kamras hope to visit St. Albert on Sept. 9 and 10.

Mayor seeks help for teen centre

Mayor Ray Gibson wants to hear from adults and teens interested in the future of the Sanctum, the so-far ill-fated teen centre.

"I'll have to have adequate interest shown by both adults and teens before I'll even consider taking the matter of reopening the centre before council," the mayor said Tuesday.

"I feel we need about 25 to 40 adults and about 80 teens to set up committees," The mayor said he wanted the adults for an advisory role, not to act as bouncers. "They'll be there to give advice," he said, indicating a good place to start would be in the kitchen.

"It was never operated properly. The youngsters were buying their supplies retail. They should have been dealing directly with wholesalers."

Teens and adults interested should contact the mayor at the Town Hall, 599-6601, or at his home, 599-7614.

Times altered

The St. Albert Public School District No. 3 has altered slightly the opening and closing times of its schools, starting Thursday.

Superintendent V. J. Maloney said the changes were necessary in order that busing schedules could be synchronized with those of adjacent areas.

The schedule below

contains the required adjustments:

Albert Lacombe, Father Jan and Vital Grandin Schools - opening time, 8:50 a.m.; noon recess, 11:50 - 12:50; closing time, 3:15 p.m.
St. Albert High School - opening time, 8:45 a.m.; noon recess, 11:35 - 12:45; closing time, 3:30 p.m.

Frank Turner wins award

Frank Turner, 37 Baldmor Drive, a student at St. Albert High School has received a $100 award from the cultural development branch of the provincial government.

The announcement was made by M. J. Boyle, information and performing arts officer.

Babysitter raped

Armed with a knife, a man entered a St. Albert home Monday night and raped a 15-year-old babysitter.

The man, a complete stranger to the girl, walked in through the unlocked door and forced the girl with the knife to her throat.

RCMP seized the man early Tuesday morning and brought him to Fort Saskatchewan Jail. He was charged for the crime later the same day. He is 25 years old and a St. Albert resident.

Row housing project approved in principle by town council

A condominium housing project carrying a total price tag of more than $8,000,000 received approval in principle from town council at a special meeting Tuesday night.

But it was an approval that really didn't sit too well with Irvine Kipnes, representative of Delcon Management Corp., the firm behind the project.

Council, in granting approval, boosted the minimum assessment per unit to $5,500 from $5,300, a figure Mr. Kipnes had believed to be acceptable all around after a meeting with the public works committee.

Actually, the figure of $5,300 was included in the original recommendation from the public works committee but after having another go at his figures, Councillor J. J. Bakker, chairman, put forth an amendment boosting the figure at Tuesday's meeting.

Mr. Kipnes said he would go over plans for the project again, then take them back to public works to see what could be done.

"I know it will be economically feasible to do the project with the $5,500 assessment figure," he said. "But it has to be salable. If it won't be, I don't want to do it."

Mr. Kipnes said it was hoped to keep the price for a three-bedroom unit as low as $17,500. He felt this would have to be at least $18,000 with the increase in assessment.

Down payments were originally scheduled to range from $1,000 to $1,500.

The project, which would have approximately 500 units, is scheduled to be built in three stages, beginning this fall and ending in 1971. Each stage would have 160 to 170 units.

The largest such undertaking ever in St. Albert, it would offer two, three and four-bedroom self-owned town houses, with an average three-bedroom home having 1,150 square feet of area.

A four-bedroom unit would cost from $1,000 to $1,500 more than a three-bedroom.

Mr. Kipnes said these costs would be about $4,000 less than for comparable single-dwelling units.

"The project will have basic country club facilities," he told The Gazette, "with two major recreation areas."

There will be possibly two swimming pools, steam rooms, game rooms, exercise studios and an area in which to run a kindergarten.

The project will sit on a 50-acre tract in West Grandin Park.

Councillors Bakker, Frank Lukay, Armand Donalds and Bob Russell voted in favor of the approval in principle motion. Mayor Ray Gibson and Councillor Rene Kambooroff opposed it.

Mayor Gibson and Councillor Donalds had earlier voted against the amendment raising the minimum assessment to $5,500.

The mayor and all five councillors agreed to an amendment that the project was subject to the town planner's approval.

A meeting to discuss the project has been planned for Thursday night by a group of Gladstone Crescent residents.

Board's letter upsets council

Town council had harsh words Tuesday night for a letter from the St. Albert Public School District regarding a condominium project planned for West Grandin Place.

The board in the letter said it would not object to the proposed development if the town would give assurance in writing, that it would decrease the municipal tax rate by the corresponding amount of the increased school costs, as reflected in their annual supplementary requisition.

"I don't really know what they want from us," Councillor Lukay commented. "Would you believe blood," retorted Mayor Gibson.

Later, the mayor said he "would be willing to go along if they would guarantee that they wouldn't increase their supplementary requisition by anything but costs that might be necessary to cover the row units."

Council accepted the letter as information but decided to advise the school board that it could entertain no such motion.

A letter from the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District asked that the assessment of each unit in the development be such that there would be no automatic increase in supplementary requisitions as a result of council approval of the scheme.

Council accepted it as information.

Air Cadets will start Sept. 4

St. Albert Air Cadet Squadron 533 will commence activities for the 1969-70 season in the Community Hall on Thursday, Sept. 4, at 7 p.m.

And Commanding Officer Marcel Bergevin feels he has a more varied program than ever before to offer local teen-agers.

Capt. Bergevin announced last week that the squadron had obtained several thousand dollars worth of photography equipment and had also received permission to construct a darkroom in the basement of the hall.

The boys will be given lectures in photography and will be able to put what they have learned into practice with the equipment on hand. Capt. Bergevin said extra band practices would be held Sunday mornings this year, and the rifle range would also be open at that time.

One of the squadron's pet projects is still being carried out, the building of an actual aircraft.

Boys 13 to 19 years of age are eligible for cadets and the squadron had a complement of 40 when it closed down for the summer.

Capt. Bergevin expects most of them will be back and he feels there will be from 25 to 30 new members. He has sent letters to all Grade 8 students in St. Albert, explaining what air cadets have to offer them.

Anyone interested should show up at the Community Hall at 7 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 4.

Bantam baseball past and future

The four-team bantam baseball league organized this summer cannot be regarded as a success. But then it's not really fair to score it as a failure, according to its organizer, Doug Millroy.

The league had a couple of strikes against it when it started.

It had no organization behind it. It was started by one man working with a budget of $100, a donation from the local fire department.

It started late, at a time when most of the people willing to get involved in coaching and umpiring had already committed themselves for the season.

Bantam ball is for boys from 13 to 15 and it was felt that with about 50 youngsters graduating from Little Canadian Baseball last summer, that there should be somewhere for them to go after this.

Actually, only about 35 of the graduating players came out for bantams and only about 20 stuck out the season. This year, however, there were 18 Little Canadian teams in St. Albert and this should produce at least 30 interested bantams for next summer.

Actually, many Little Canadians caught on with bantam teams when their own leagues closed down at the end of June, but even this was not enough to keep the league operating with four teams.

With holidays cutting a big hole in the ranks of all teams, it was decided to disband the Angels, the hardest hit for personnel, and distribute their players throughout the other three teams.

The league attempted to operate throughout the summer as it did not get started until the first week in June. Little Canadian was under way by the first of May.

"It was a gamble," says Millroy, "that didn't really work out too well. We started with only 13 players on a team, which doesn't leave any room for manoeuvring when holidays roll around."

"We'd probably have been all right if we had gone with three teams from the start. The idea, though, was that with 13 players on a team, everyone would be guaranteed lots of playing time. It also left room for any boys who decided to come out once the league began."

Millroy says, however, that it will be back to four teams next year and the league will be under way much earlier. It will probably come under the wing of the St. Albert Lions Club, which operates Little Canadian Baseball, a proposal put forward by Little Canadian Chairman Perry Billingsley.

"There were few 15-year-olds in the league this year, so few players will graduate," Millroy says, "With most returning and replacements coming out of Little Canadian, there should be little trouble manning four teams."

"The only thing required, then, is to strengthen the organization at the top. That should be done under the tie-in with the Lions."

Crafts Guild offers variety of programs

If interest, ambition and volunteer manpower could be measured in dollars and cents, the St. Albert Crafts Guild would be one of the wealthiest organizations in town.

What newly elected president, Mr. Alvin Morris, calls "quite a complex little organization" with a membership last season of more than 170, has come a long way since it was organized and incorporated under the Societies Act of Alberta eight years ago.

One of the original members, Mrs. Cecile Martindale, remembers that only 16 persons showed up at a meeting advertised in the Gazette to form the Guild.

"At that time conditions in St. Albert were such that there were no activities that were creative," says Mrs. Martindale. There were several service clubs, she says, "But we were mostly young mothers and housewives looking for a creative interest outside the home."

In the first few years, functioning in co-operation with the community league, the growth of the guild was slow, records show. "Not from lack of interest but due to lack of adequate facilities and the need of a large kiln."

However, in 1966, following much correspondence with the Town of St. Albert, the guild's future began to brighten. It was then that the town offered the Guild, along with the St. Albert Creative Schools Society, access to two utility huts and space in Salisbury Park to establish a Guild Centre.

The cry went out for volunteer help to assemble the huts and make them ready for use. Working with the Creative Schools Society, guild members and volunteers pounded, painted, laid tiles and scrubbed.

Five months later the centre was ready for use. Opening day was Sept. 28, 1968, and as of that day St. Albert can boast one of the most unique centres in the province. Not only is it open to school-age children, teens and adults, but there are some pre-school classes as well. Workshop facilities are also available to qualified persons.

One of the biggest and most recent additions to the new centre was a high-fire ceramics kiln installed last spring. It was purchased on a provincial government loan and has helped greatly to speed the production of ceramic works.

During the past season, working in co-operation with the Town of St. Albert Parks and Recreation Department, the guild has offered such classes as ceramics, copper enamelling, painting, creative needlecraft, basketry, millinery, batik, puppetry, knitting, dressmaking and bridge. All are taught under fully qualified and, as of recent years, paid instructors.

An auction held last May in Molson's Edmonton House was the most ambitious event undertaken by the guild. Many of the items auctioned were produced and donated by guild artists. Proceeds were used to assist the children's classes.

Now that it's finally settled in its new home the Guild is swinging into high gear for the coming season. There are new classes in the wind and an administrator has been hired to free members of the executive to practice their own crafts.

For interested would-be artists, all guild facilities will be available to residents of St. Albert and district when classes begin at the centre Oct. 6. To begin the new season there will be an open house at the centre Sept. 28 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Forms for pre-registration will be sent home with school children next week and additional information will appear in the Gazette. Anyone interested should register by Sept. 28, as last year classes were over-subscribed.

Dodgers capture bantam ball title

Dodgers captured the St. Albert Fire Department Bantam Baseball League championship last Friday night, defeating Senators 14-3 in the deciding game of the best-of-three final.

Dodgers, coached by Wilf Reinbold, had won the opening game of the series 3-2 but Senators came back to square things with a 7-3 win in the second game.

Senators jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning in the final, but Dodgers tied it in the third.

After a stormy fourth inning, in which several calls were hotly disputed, Dodgers held a commanding 12-3 lead. They added their final two runs in the bottom of the sixth, after Senators had picked up one in the top of the inning.

Doug Reinbold went the distance for Dodgers to collect the win. Jim Walla started for Senators and took the loss.

Reinbold, Matt Lister and Maurice Gauthier all crossed the plate twice for Dodgers.

Senators, coached by Armand LaCourse and Roy Galloway in the absence of Ed Hawarko, who was vacationing with his wife in Europe, were in complete command in the field and at the plate in squaring the series Thursday night.

Simon LaFrance started on the mound and he kept Dodgers off the scoresheet for the first two innings. Gary Deane came on as Dodgers tied the game 2-2 in the third inning and went the rest of the way for the victory.

Senators scored twice in the fifth and sixth innings to salt away the win. Ernie Mitchell was the losing pitcher.

No one crossed the plate twice for Senators. Roger Longpre, Chris Krupa, Deane, LaFrance, Gary Bruens, Gary Larsen and Roger Meunier each scored once.

Dodgers had finished in first place in the regular schedule, edging the third-place Pirates 5-4 win the final game.

Members of the Dodgers were Doug Reinbold, Doug MacKenzie, Cyril Blinette, Matt Lister, Dale Brochu, Neil Channay, Leon Hebert, Michael McLaughlin, Steve Lister, Ernie Mitchell, Maurice Gauthier.

Oilers put up good fight in playoffs

Bruised and battered, St. Albert Willowbrook Oilers bowed out of the Oilfield Baseball League championship race on the weekend at Leduc.

They lost 16-7 to Breton Eagles in their final game in the four-team double-knockout tournament, but the score doesn't really tell the story of the intense struggle that went before.

Crippled in the first inning when a thundering collision sent rightfielder Richie Perrault to hospital and drastically hampered shortstop Larry Mitchell's effectiveness, Oilers went into the ninth inning trailing 6-3. Giving it all they had in one last shot, they tied the score to force extra play.

But having lifted pitcher Fred Resler for a pinch hitter in the rally, coach Bob Mulloy had to reach into a tired bullpen.

Bert Kenney, a short-term reliever who had gone four innings the day before, got the call. He didn't have it. Wayne Biggs, only 16 and the hero of Oilers' only win, came next but it wasn't his day either.

Arnie Bradley, a first baseman by trade who was Oilers' top man at the plate throughout the series, finally got the Eagles out. But 10 runs had crossed the plate.

With two out in the bottom half of the inning, Oilers mounted one more rally but it died with only one run in.

The need for runs cost Oilers the services of Hank Reinbolt, their only other available pitcher, in the seventh inning. Mulloy called on him to pinch hit and he delivered a run-scoring single.

Oilers didn't really have the spirit after the first-inning collision. Perrault lay on the field for nearly 45 minutes before being taken to hospital on a stretcher for repairs to a broken collarbone.

When Mitchell woke up, he didn't even know what game he was in, and was in obvious pain the rest of the day.

St. Albert had bounced Leduc from the playoff on Saturday with a 11-3 victory. Coach Mulloy went all the way with Biggs, who with Mike Mulloy, 15, formed probably the youngest battery the league has ever seen in a playoff game.

The Oilers lost their opening game 2-1 to Warburg. Perrault took the loss, going out in the fifth inning with Warburg leading 1-0. However, the winning run was charged to him as it crossed the plate in the fifth before Kenney could put out the fire.

St. Albert rallied for one run in the seventh but couldn't get the one needed to tie.

Pirates bounced from provincials

St. Albert Pirates were bounced from the Little Canadian Baseball provincial playoffs at Warburg on the weekend in two straight games.

Pirates, champions of the Sturgeon League in the local operation sponsored by the Lions Club, lost 10-9 to Warburg in their opening game, then rolled over and played dead in losing 15-1 to Edmonton Killarney.

Stony Plain, the eventual winner, and Tomahawk were the other teams in the double-knockout tournament.

The St. Albert squad made a game fight of the opening game after falling behind 10-2 after two innings, but didn't quite have enough left to pull it out.

Brian Benton started on the mound in the opener and gave up two runs in the first Benton walked the first two men in the second and the Pirates' defence crumbled behind him. With four runs in, and none out, Sandy Millroy relieved Benton but before he could put the fire out, another four runs had crossed the plate.

Millroy applied the screws the rest of the way, however, allowing only one batter, by a walk, to reach base. His mates, meanwhile, began to go about the business of getting some runs.

Pirates got five runs in the top of the third, and one in the fourth to make it 10-8. Held scoreless in the fifth, Bruins and Benton reached base in the sixth. With two out, Greg Pudowski singled into centre field. Bruins scored but Benton, waved on by coach Doug Millroy, nipped sliding into third base.

Chris Krupa and Chris Hoffart kept Pirates alive at the plate during the game, each smashing out two hits. Bruins poled the longest blow of the game. The left fielder got back far enough to touch it, but couldn't hold onto it for the out.

Krupa started on the mound in the second game and got Killarney in order in the first inning. Pirates also went down in order and Killarney set the tone of the game in the second, scoring six runs.

Hoffart had come on in this one to put out the fire but Killarney jumped on him for three runs in the third. Ten-year-old Blake Millroy came on to collect the third out and held Killarney to one run in the fourth.

Pirates added Krupa and Roger Meunier of the Angels and Gary Bruins of the Senators to their roster for the playoffs.

The broken collarbone Richie Perrault received in a baseball game at Leduc last weekend has cost him, at least temporarily, a chance at a professional hockey career.

Perrault, 21, was slated to attend the training camp of Portland Buckaroos of the Western Hockey League in two weeks.

The injury rules this out as he will be sidelined for about two months.

A hard-shooting hard-skating defenceman for the St. Albert Comets, he had been invited to the Portland camp last season but declined to report. He said he was really looking forward to trying out this year.

Perrault was injured in a head-on collision with Larry Mitchell in a game against Breton in the Oilfield Baseball League's championship tournament.

Calling themselves the Outcasts, they swept through the tourney with three straight victories, knocking off Alexander Braves
Juniors 11-7 in the final.

George Hodgson was the winning pitcher in the final game, coming on in the fourth inning with the score reading 5-4 in favor of the Braves.

The Outcasts gave him a good working margin in the seventh inning, erupting for five runs.

Outcasts had won their first game Sunday morning by default, but played an exhibition game against a team made up of players from Winterburn, Kinuso and the Alexander Braves and won 4-3.

Playing for real in the afternoon, Larry Perrott went all the way in a 12-5 victory. St. Albert trailed 4-1 after four innings, but got 11 runs in the fifth to make it a runaway.

Rick Pugliese and Lionel Ruhl of St. Albert hit the longest balls of the tournament, each measuring about 370 feet.

The Outcasts threw $50 of the prize money into the Officers' coffers and split the rest among themselves.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor—
In the edition of Aug. 6th, you published two letters on the subject of medicare, one of them by Peter Loughheed, M.L.A. and the other by Keith Everitt, M.L.A., St. Albert. In his letter Mr. Everitt indicated that Mr. Loughheed was trying to mislead the public on the attitude of the Progressive Conservative Party with regard to the federal medicare plan, as implemented in the Province of Alberta. In his concluding paragraph, Mr. Everitt asks how the Conservatives voted in the House of Commons when the vote was taken on medicare. For the information of all concerned, I am enclosing a copy of the entry in the Journal of the House of Commons for the votes in question which will indicate, contrary to Mr. Everitt's views, that there was opposition by Conservative M.P.s to the proposed medicare scheme.

On second reading, the P.C.s put forward an amendment which provided in part first, the co-operation of the governments of the provinces of Canada; secondly, recognition of the principle of voluntary choice by the individual; thirdly, provision for those persons who are unable, for financial reasons, to provide medical care for themselves. This amendment was supported by 68 Conservatives, including eight members from the Province of Alberta who were present on that occasion. This occurred on Oct. 20, 1966. The government, supported by the other parties, negated the amendment. There was a further amendment from the Independents seeking the provision for autonomous medical insurance plans by any province desiring to do so. Conservatives supported this amendment against the government, the NDP and the Social Credit.

On Oct. 25th, the House voted 182-21 in favor on second reading of the bill, as shown by the enclosed copy of the entry in the Commons Journal. Among those opposing the motion were 10 Conservatives, including five from Alberta; namely, Messrs. Baldwin, Ballard, Harkness, Smallwood and Lambert. Third reading of the bill was given on Dec. 8, 1966. This item of business was called after a quick change in the order of business by the government. It had been my intention to vote against this bill on third reading but as a result of the indicated business, I had made commitments to be in Edmonton and was actually flying to Edmonton with a number of my Alberta colleagues on the date in question and so was not able to be present to record my opposition to the bill on third reading.

The official opposition accepted third reading of the bill since the Progressive Conservative Party was not opposed to the principle of a medical care plan but having been defeated in second reading in regard to voluntary participation, etc. it was deemed better to have the plan as put forward rather than no plan at all.

I trust this will clear up the confusion that may exist in Mr. Everitt's mind, as well as the confusion that his letter may have created.

Marcel Lambert,

EDITOR'S NOTE: Entries from the House of Commons Journal dated Oct. 20 and Oct. 25, and showing the voting record, were attached to Mr. Lambert's letter.

Dear Sirs:

It has just recently been learned through Dr. Charles F. Wurster Jr. of the State University of New York that DDT poses an extremely diabolical threat to life on earth, and may in fact prove much greater a danger than would a nuclear war.

He has reported that very small amounts of DDT can disable phytoplankton, the minute plant organisms of the sea. Two-thirds of the free atmospheric oxygen we breathe is produced by the photosynthesis of these algae in the ocean. Dr. Wurster's experiments revealed that as little as one part of DDT in ten million parts of water was sufficient enough to reduce activity of these tiny plants by as much as ten percent.

DDT is distributed in the sea to the extent that it has been recovered from the bodies of penguins that inhabit Antarctica, far removed from any area of pesticide use. So it is already widespread, and this environmental contamination should be due cause for alarm.

Can we afford to lose ten percent of our oxygen supply? Many scientists submit that we cannot! If the further use of pesticides such as DDT are continued, we can expect to forfeit a large percentage of this "life-giving" ingredient.

How much greater a threat has to be brought before the eyes of the public before they will realize the need to ban DDT in Alberta?

For prolonged life on earth, I remain,

J. E. Heather,
Alberta Fish and Game Association.

Braves bow to Oilers

Alexander Braves dropped a 2-1 decision to St. Albert Willowbrook Oilers in an exhibition game at Mission Park Diamond last week. Bert Kenney went all the way for the Oilers to collect the win.

Oilers enter tournament

St. Albert Willowbrook Oilers will take another run at the cash that has been eluding them so often of late.

They are entered in a tournament at Lac Ste. Anne this weekend. It will probably be their last action of the season.

As a tune-up for the tournament, they were to travel to Winterburn for an exhibition game against the Tomahawks tonight.

TENNIS

Several St. Albert players were winners in the Garneau Invitational Tournament held at the Labor Day weekend. Betty Ontkane was a double main event winner, combining with a lady from Garneau to win the ladies' doubles and with Dave Kirk to win the mixed doubles. In the secondary events, Clark Warren won the men's singles and Dave Kirk and Frank Carnahan won the men's doubles.

Playing with a partner from Calgary, Betty Ontkane finished in sixth place in the ladies doubles at the Canada Games held recently in Halifax.

The Senior Inter-Club team was defeated by Glenora 3-0, in the first half of the city finals. Playing for St. Albert in this competition for the Brower Shield were Dave Kirk, Frank Carnahan, Clark Warren, Angie Sonntag, Pam Jackson and Ann Kirk. The return match was scheduled to be played on Tuesday Sept. 2.

Sept. 3 is the deadline for entries in the invitational "B" tournament to be held in St. Albert on Sept. 6 and 7. (The courts will not be available for public play on those days). Interested players should phone Clark Warren at 599-4627 as soon as possible. The junior tournament will be held on Sunday, Sept. 21. Juniors should contact Dave Hansen, Dave Almond or Roberta Parsons for details.

The annual dance of the tennis club will be held in the Club Meccano on Friday, Sept. 12. Tickets are $6 per couple (cost includes a hot smorgasbord). They can be obtained from any member of the executive - Betty Ontkane, Jack Harding, Clark Warren, Angie Sonntag or Judy Wood (phone 599-8696).

SWIMMING

Thirty teams from all over the province competed in the Provincial Summer Club Finals held on Sunday at the Bonnie Doon Pool. Our St. Albert Swim Club did extremely well by placing third to Stanley Park's (Calgary) first and Drayton Valley's second. In the individual events, Joanne Bellward was second in the 400 m. freestyle (Open Women); Mike Sandomirsky - 3rd in butterfly and 2nd in breaststroke (8 and under); Richard Fowler - 3rd in butterfly, 3rd in breaststroke and 4th in individual medley (10 and under); Tom Kehoe 1st in breaststroke, 1st in butterfly and 2nd in individual medley (boys' 11 and 12); Bill Clark - 3rd in butterfly, 2nd in breaststroke and 2nd in individual medley (open men); Barbara McCaffrey - 2nd in butterfly and 2nd in individual medley (girls 13 and 14); Lydia Kehoe - 3rd in breaststroke (girls 8 and under); Kathy Fowler 4th in backstroke (girls 11 and 12) and Rod Wiltshire 3rd in freestyle (boys 10 and under). Tom Kehoe was very high on points and was a runner-up for the outstanding swimmer award. In the boys' 10 and under medley relay St. Albert was first with Brandon McCaffrey, Ron Sanders, Richard Fowler and Rod Wiltshire swimming for the local team.

Sandy Willis, Donna Mae Sander, Teresa Ball and Kathy Fowler were first in the girls' 11 and 12 freestyle relay and in the boys' 11 and 12 freestyle relay. Michael St. Clair, Michael Gariepy, Casey Kelly and Tom Kehoe came a very close second.

All the swimmers deserve our congratulations. It is worth noting that last year four swimmers from St. Albert participated in the provincial finals compared with the large number taking part this year.

The following were successful in passing the recently held senior leader and instructor's course: Roberta Riley, Brian Toole, Brigitte Sumane, Fred Riles, Curt Lantinga and Tineka Opperheyde qualified as instructors and Barry Kennedy, Joanne Bellward, Sherri Tomlinson, Bill Clark, Bob Campbell, Ernie Byl and Brenda Gibbon passed as Senior Leaders.

Sept. 7 will be the last chance for anyone wishing to try for the Mile Swim or to improve their time. Please register at the pool.

Although most pools at the end of August or beginning of September, the St. Albert pool will stay open for another week or so. The schedule has been adjusted now that the children (our most faithful patrons) are back at school. There will be public swimming, Monday through Friday, from 1 - 5:30 p.m., on Monday Wednesday and Friday from 6 - 10 p.m. and on Tuesday and Thursday from 7:30 - 10 p.m. Family sessions will remain unchanged (Tuesday and Thursdays from 6 - 7:30 p.m.) and the schedule for Saturdays and Sundays also remains unchanged.

MEN'S SOCCER

The St. Albert Bruins won their game last Tuesday against 1st DFC by a score of 3-2, Fred Austin, John McDermott, and Roger Marsh scoring for the local team. On Thursday night, Sept. 4, they will be playing the winners of a game between Ben Fica and Kickers at Kinsmen Park at 8:30 p.m. This will be their first step on the way to the President's Cup.

ST. ALBERT

ARTS & CRAFT GUILD The Guild is in the process of lining up their programs for the fall and winter terms. Besides the excellent "basic" courses in arts and crafts we have come to expect from the Guild, they are widening their field of activity to include boys' woodworking, sculpture and even wine-making! These, as well as several other interesting programs at present under consideration, should provide something for everyone so no one need stay at home this winter for the want of something to do. Anyone interested in instructing any of the courses offered by the Guild should phone Mr. Alan Michie at 599-7612 as soon as possible.

BOYS' SOCCER

Don't forget the game the St. Albert Little Atoms will be playing on Saturday, Sept. 6, at 1 p.m. at Kinsmen Park. They'll be playing Lauderdale in the semi-finals of the Edmonton and District Challenge Cup and it is hoped that as many St. Albertans as possible will be there cheering them on to victory.

Six months sees 508 suspensions

A report from Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Alberta minister of highways and transport, indicated that during the first six months of 1969, the minister of highways suspended 508 licenses of drivers and placed restrictions on 72 licenses. In addition, six licenses were cancelled for life.

The minister further reported that during the last five years, 15 level railway crossings have been eliminated through relocation, 17 have been protected by grade separation and 23 have been protected by lights and bells on the main highway network. In addition, on access roads, one has been protected by grade separation and three with lights and bells. In the same period, Counties, Municipalities, Towns and Villages in the province have protected some 70 crossings with lights and bells.

The old Labelle Meat Market at Perron Street, north of Sturgeon River Bridge, caught on fire at 1:00 a.m. Tuesday. The firemen fought the fire until 3:00 a.m. It is not known how the fire started. The building has been vacant for a long time. Some of the telephone cables nearby were cut off and caused a few hours break for a number of St. Albert families.

Report on color TV hazards

At the present time, there are some 25 level railway crossings that are unprotected in the Primary System and 15 unprotected railway crossings on Spur Lines.

The department of highways has a program to progressively protect all crossings on Primary Highways with lights and bells which cannot be eliminated through relocation or separation.

The 1969 program will include provision for protecting approximately 25 crossings with lights and bells and the elimination by separation of four crossings are planned or under construction for this year.

The Minister of National Health and Welfare, John Munro has reported on a survey of 400 color TV sets been made by his department to investigate possible radiation hazards. The survey was carried out with the co-operation of citizens who, at the department's request, attached radiation detection films to their sets and returned them to the department's radiation protection division for evaluation.

The health hazard of color TV sets, even where radiation emission is above the standard, is considered by the department to be exceedingly small. In the survey, radiation emission was observed only at the point of closest approach to the electronic tubes at the side, back or bottom of the set - not in the normal viewing position. Furthermore, the standard carries such a high safety margin that, unless it is exceeded by a substantial amount, any health risk is quite insignificant.

The department is continuing its study of these aspects and will be discussing with manufacturers any measures needed to improve the situation.
